Rebels Lose to Wetaskiwin Sunday

The Rebels were defeated 5-4 last Sunday afternoon in a closely contested game. Despite the cold weather a good sized crowd of fans attended.

Although the Rebels outshot the Colonels 33-17 they were unable to get more than four of these past Grimm who played a good game in the nets. Eleven penalties were handed out in the game. Seven to Wetaskiwin and four to the Rebels. The Rebels had a man advantage on six of these occasions but managed to score only one power play goal.

Frank Novocel opened the scoring in the first period from Barry Solnes and Gary Haack. The Colonels replied with three goals. One each from F. Young, H. Maciborski, and R. Hoult to end the first period scoring.

The second period featured close checking by both sides until 19:42 when Al Hopfe unleashed a wicked slap shot from just inside the red line. His curved stick caused the puck to dive at the last moment and it fooled Grimm because he seemed to have it taped all the way. Then R. Romaniuk banged one in past Motley Moger at 19:59 to give back the Colonels their two goal cushion.

The Rebels staged a strong comeback in the third period outshooting the Colonels 11-5 and scoring two more goals to tie it all up. Barry Ness got a power play goal on a slap shot from the left point that deflected in off one of the Colonel players Frank Novocel and Jim Dunn drew assists. Don Born tied it all up at the 14:50 mark when he was left all alone in front of the net and banged in a perfect centering pass from the corner. Gary Haack was credited with his second assist. Larry Silzer also drew an assist on Don Born's goal and played a good game, his first time in a Rebel uniform. He has played a few games with the Drayton Valley Voyageurs and will now be playing regularly with the Rebels. B. Schaefer who played an outstanding game for the Colonels scored the winning goal at the 15:45 mark.

The three stars of the game were B. Schaefer, Frank Novocel and Jim Young.

The Rebels next game is in Wetaskiwin on Tuesday, January 14th. The remainder of the regular schedule has been re-arranged due to many games being postponed by adverse weather and road conditions.

Anglican Ladies Group Meets

The first meeting of 1969 was held on January 8th at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. William Louth of Rocky Rapids. In spite of the very cold temperature two car loads of members ventured forth. There were eight members and one guest present.

Mrs. Peggy Tyler our incoming President lead the devotions, with several members taking part in the readings. Another chapter from our Study Book was reviewed and discussed at some length, the title of this month's chapter was "How we acquire Prejudice". The Minutes and Treasurer's Report were read and adopted. Arrangements were made for the purchase of cleaning supplies for the church. The Docas Secretary was given funds to purchase supplies, for Bazaar work and to help with various appeals of the Dorcas Department. Due to the very cold weather and the meeting being so close after the holiday season the program books were not ready, but will be in time for the February meeting. It was decided that all Roll Call items this year be for our Annual Bazaar, and month by month these will be collected. Grace was said by Mrs. Madge Wall our guest for the evening.

A delicious lunch was served and prepared by our hostesses Ruby Schramm, Barbara Colbert and Mrs. Louth.

First Place at Stake in Warriors - Trotters Clash

First place is at stake tonight when the Warburg Trotters and the FMHS Warriors meet head on tonight at the Frank Maddock High School gymnasium.

This year's edition of the Warburg Trotters will probably be the most determined team to ever come into the local gymnasium and local basketball fans will probably witness a memorable contest. The Warburg club will be using the world famous press used and developed by the great college club, St. Joseph of Pennsylvania. If the Warriors are unable to break it they will experience a blitz and nightmare.

It is certain that the Warburg club will have great community support in this contest and the local Drayton team is hoping for first class support from their school and community.

For victory the Warriors will need a complete team effort and one of the players who will and can contribute to this effort is Terry Jevne, who though not receiving a great deal of publicity is playing and contributing solid basketball skill and talent to his team. He along with Ron Cameron are giving the Warriors what could be the finest defence board coverage in the province. His outside jump shot gives his team points at critical times and they provide a great uplift when the team is sagging. Terry and the other Warriors are ready for this game and if you like the game fast and rugged don't miss it.

Granary-Dryer Could Help Solve Damp Grain Problem

A granary converted into a batch-type dryer or a home-made continuous flow dryer might be the answer to your damp grain problem this year. Since damp grain can be safely stored as long as the temperature remains below 40 degrees F., you could do the converting or construction during the winter and have it ready by the time the weather warms up in the spring, says Alberta's extension engineer Les Reid.

GRAIN DRYER MADE FROM 10' x 12' GRANARY

To convert a granary into a dryer, walls and floor should first be lined with an airproof material such as four mil polyethylene plastic. Construct a false floor over the present floor by running two by eight joists lengthwise. These joists should be centered two feet apart. Across the joists lay one by three inch wooden strips spaced at three-quarters of an inch. On these strips and running across the width of the granary, lay fly netting. Center it on the one by three inch strips and allow a few inches for overlap. On top of the netting and centered on the three inch strips nail one by one or one by two inch guard strips to protect the netting against damage caused by walking or shovelling.

FALSE FLOOR CONSTRUCTION

Across one end of the granary remove enough outside sheathing for an opening at least six inches high all along the base of the granary. Through this opening air will pass into the space under the false floor. Next build a plywood air chamber 18 inches by 18 inches and closed at both ends. Nail the chamber to the end of the granary over the opening under the false floor. The fan, connected to the air chamber by a short duct, will blow air at equalized pressure across the width of the granary and under the false floor.

SECTION THROUGH AIR DUCT AND FALSE FLOOR

In the inclined-column dryer described in the accompanying diagram, the damp grain is placed in an upper chamber, dried, allowed to fall by gravity into a lower cooling chamber. When the grain has cooled sufficiently, it can be augered out of the lower chamber and moved to permanent storage. By operating the emptying auger the dryer can be used as a continuous flow system, the grain then moved through the drying and cooling chambers continuously.

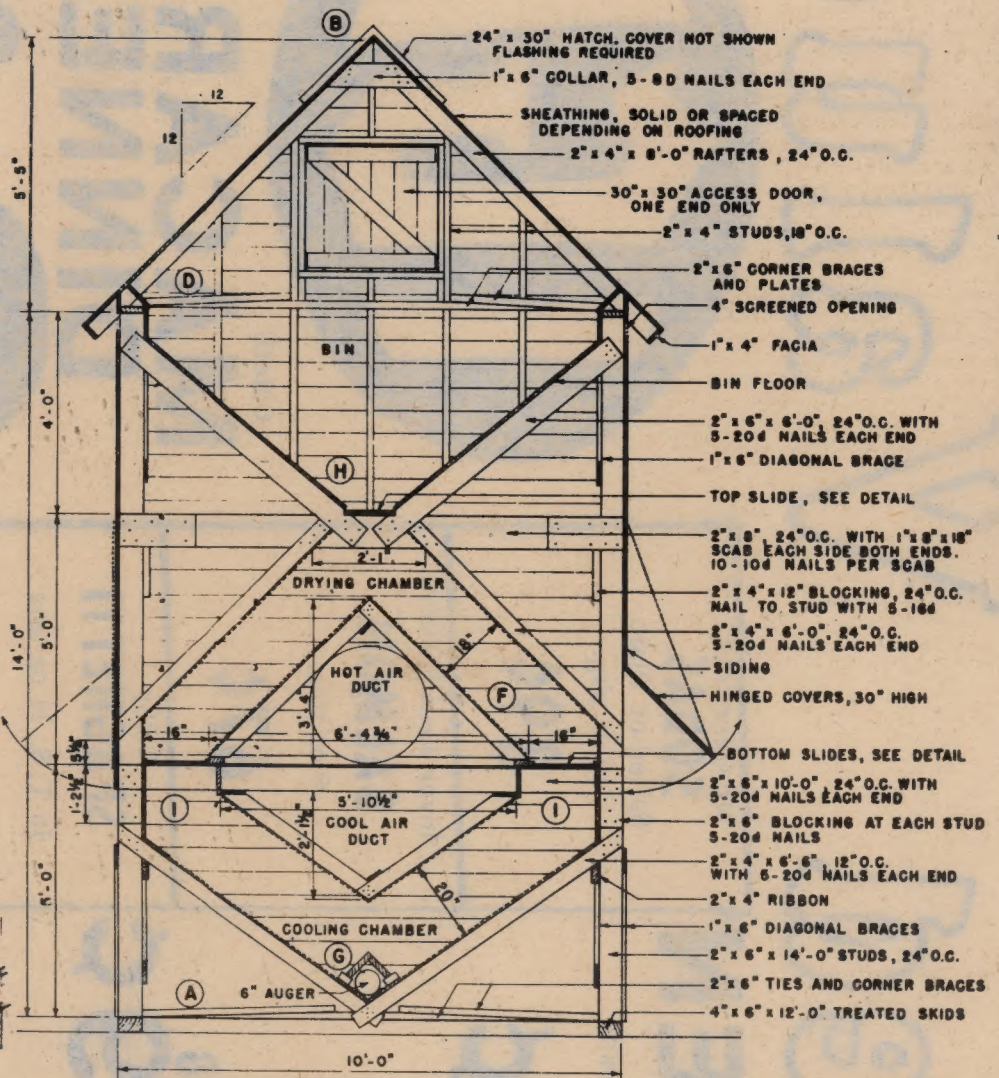

Although more complicated and costly to build, the inclined column dryer has certain definite advantages. For example, there is less risk of the grain being overheated and because of the use of gravity much less labor is necessary.

Any heat source suitable for either the batch-type dryer or the inclined column dryer, providing it produces heat at the rate of 150,000 to 300,000 BTU per hour.

Detailed plans of grain dryers can be obtained from district agriculturists and the publications office of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff were glad they had close neighbors when their house caught on fire in '35 below temperatures on Sunday, December 29th. Kmyta's, Blatkevicz's, Kelly's and many more friends and relations helped put the fire out and the women helped clean after the men and make them coffee and lunch. Mrs. Woodruff says she is happy she still has a roof over her head to start the new year. Thanks to all that helped to save their home. That was one time the telephone came in pretty handy.

We are sorry that many people had to turn back their tickets because they had to work etc. If you would rather have a Saturday night dance so you can sleep in Sunday, let us know and we'll see about it when warmer weather comes along.

We are sorry to hear that Ed and Mary Lauer lost their home in a fire last week.

Erwin has been working on an oil drilling rig, drilling in the North Sea, just off the shores of England. Now his rig is moving to the Red Sea between Africa and Arabia. Stella and the girls will stay in Canada about a month while the rig is moving then they will join Erwin. Happy holidays folks.

Salmon to Be Planted

Hon. H. A. Ruste, Minister of Alberta Department of Lands and Forests, has received confirmation from Urban C. Nelson, Commissioner for the Alaska Department of Fish and Game, that his state authorized a gift of one hundred thousand Coho Salmon eggs to the Province of Alberta.

The salmon eggs arrived by air in Calgary on January 10th and were delivered to the Fish and Wildlife Division's Fish Hatchery.

The eggs will be reared to fingerling size and planted in Cold Lake, approximately 150 miles northeast of Edmonton, sometime next summer. The eggs are expected to hatch on or about February 1st.

This marks the first time that Coho Salmon, a native to salt water, will have been introduced into Alberta's fresh water.

The State of Michigan is the only other area in North America that has attempted to carry out such plantings on a large scale in fresh water.

The department's fisheries biologists expect that the fish will reach the 10 to 15 pounds stage at the end of their second year following planting. Similar introductions into Lake Michigan resulted in a 18-20 pound fish during the same period of time.

Firefighters Still Watch Subsoil Smoulderings

Despite many inches of snow, firefighters of the Forest Service Branch, Alberta Department of Lands and Forests, are fighting the aftermath of the scores of fires that ravaged nearly half a million acres of forest land in the Slave Lake Forest, last May.

The majority of these fires are located along the settlement fringe between Athabasca and the Westlock area. Thirty-five are just outside the Forest Protection Area, two are inside. The ground fires may be burning on the surface or smouldering deep in the ground, thus presenting a difficult suppression task.

Fireguards excavated around each fire must be cut right down through the organic layer to the non-flammable subsoil underneath. Where the immediate mineral is buried too deep for practical fireguard construction, the fire may be confined by cutting the guard around the fire.

After construction of adequate and safe fireguards, the firefighters must proceed to extinguish these ground fires by actually digging them out and mixing with water. The remaining fires are being carefully watched by patrols through the winter and will be extinguished before the next fire season.

Sub-surface fires, if allowed to burn unchecked, may flare up occasionally when the surface collapses. If not extinguished prior to the next fire season, a potentially dangerous ignition source will be present.

Repeated fires over the same area are disastrous because they will destroy the tree-bearing capacity of the soil.

Parkcourt News

The F.C.C. held a very successful New Year's Eve party at the community hall. Quite a number of former residents were there and all enjoyed the supper, dancing and festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Yandt were busy seeing their friends during the holidays. The Yandts have recently moved to B.C. but were back for Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. W. Chedorak of Edmonton were also out for the holidays.

The Gay Gatherers held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Carl Ohl. Mrs. Albert Tuffin and Mrs. Harvey Marchand were elected as officers of the club for the coming year.

Quite a number of men from the district are now curling in Evansburg. Good Luck Men? The young people too are taking advantage of the skating rink but the extreme cold weather and the flu have kept many at home.

Andy and Liz Kmyta and family of Fort McMurray spent ten days visiting relatives. They returned on January 5th in time for Andy to go to work.

Folks will be glad to hear that

Dean Manchester has recovered enough so that he may return to school. Mrs. Manchester's dad and mom, Mr. and Mrs. Jensen of Drayton Valley spent five days visiting at the Manchester home over Christmas.

Several local families spent a very quiet New Year's Day at home as the weather was cold and they were snowed in.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Strangway arrived home safely on New Year's Day from their trip to Victoria, B.C. They report a good time and everyone was well out there. The weather in Victoria was as bad as ours, with 12 inches of snow and they encountered an old fashioned blizzard from Kamloops to Golden.

Howard and Isobel, Allen and Beth and Eric were all home for New Year's Day at the John Brown home. Eric left on January 5 to return to work at Hinton.

We missed seeing the Len Williams for the past two weeks as they were away visiting. They visited Norma's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Williams at Onoway. Sherry enjoyed her first Christmas.

Chris and Dorothy McWillis motored to Edmonton to have dinner with Lonzo, Sherran and family on New Year's Day.

Toni and Doreen Thomeus and family spent Christmas Day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Lake Isle. Visitors at the Thomeus home were Don and Jean Gylander and family for New Year's Day. Stan and Verna Lewis and family of Darwell visited on January 5th.

Mark and Sophie Chechotke and family attended family reunions in Edmonton at the home of Mrs. Chechotke Sr. and also in Entwistle with Sophie's folks. Visitors at the Chechotke home were Stella and Grant MacDougall and family of Mayerthorpe, Lorraine and Mike Greeney and family of Gainford and Red and Julie Wildeman from B.C. also visited.

A belated happy birthday is wished to Peter Hampton who was twelve on December 31st.

The A. Walker home was the scene of a very successful stag party for Dan Rose on Saturday evening, January 4th. Sunday supper guests with Allan and Brenda Walker were Len, Norma, and Sherry Williams and Dean and Betty Strangway.

Gene Campbell left to return to college at Olds on January 5th. Fifty-five McCracken and Jorgenson folks sat down to Christmas dinner in the Elks Hall at Stony Plain. New Year's Day saw the McCrackens quietly at home with all their children able to attend.

Dan and Betty Strangway and boys have returned from a very short trip to Stettler over New Year's.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Anderson had all their children home for New Year's Day.

New Year's dinner guests at the A. Reich home were Rudolph and Alma Reich, David and Gloria Jouan with son Bradley and Richard and Kenneth Reich of Tomahawk.

Garth Manchester was able to be home for Christmas for the first time in four years. Much appreciated by his family.

We hope that all the folks who had the misfortune to be ill over the holidays are now on the road to recovery.

D. V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

Mrs. Carl Anderson of 4828-43 St. will entertain at her home on Saturday evening, January 18th, with a miscellaneous shower for Miss Peggy Bills. Everybody is welcome.

Mrs. Disney, of the post-office staff, had a week's enforced holiday when she ran her arm through the wringer of her washing machine. Fortunately no bones were broken.

Mr. Benny Shirley, an old timer of the Rocky Rapids district, is quite ill in the local hospital. Hope to see you around again soon, Mr. Shirley.

Mr. Harvey Miller, of Prince Rupert, visited his brother Chester, here for a short time on his way back to the coast from Saskatchewan. Mr. Miller works on a fishing boat and loves the life at sea.

Mrs. F. V. Correll, of St. John, New Brunswick, is spending some time this winter with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Ellery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Machan and family enjoyed a visit with Machan relatives at Regina and Weyburn in spite of the fact that cold weather curtailed outdoor activities.

Dorothy Susan MacKenzie joined the Kenneth MacKenzie family ten days ago. She is a sister for Mary Jane and Betty Ann. At present Dorothy is in the University Hospital but she is making favorable progress and will soon be able to come home.

Mr. and Mrs. William George Robinson are in the process of building a fine new farm home. Cold weather has halted work for the time being but when spring comes it will be resumed.

Mrs. Les Herndon had a letter from Mrs. Peter Gregersen at Summerland, B.C. Mrs. Gregersen says they have had eight inches of snow. Isn't that something for the sunny Okanagan?

The Ingrams visited the Helanders in Peace River and found them all well.

During the holidays the Pickups had a distinguished visitor in the person of Mr. Chiu Ding of Hong Kong. It all came about because Michael Chiu and Gordon Pickup attend Camrose Lutheran College together and have formed a warm friendship. Michael considers the Pickup home his "Home away from home" so when Mr. Chiu telephoned his son to say that he was in Vancouver and would come to see him, the Pickups invited both for the New Year holiday. Mr. Chiu was a delightful guest who took an interest in everything about him. Skating, ice-fishing, strip mining, our food - all were of interest. The speed at which Canadians drive terrified him. Mr. Chiu is in the export-import business and among the gifts he brought was a beautiful, old, teak fan for his hostess. Mr. Chiu ended his Alberta visit with a few days at the college where he received a royal welcome.

Warriors Defeat Thorsby In Pembina League Game

The FMHS Warriors achieved another of their goals this season as they defeated the Hornets 72-46 in a Pembina League contest played in Thorsby this past Friday. It was the Warriors first team victory on the Thorsby floor.

It appeared as if the jinx was to continue as the local Drayton team held a narrow 29-27 half time lead and went behind in the third quarter 34-28. At this point the Warriors went into their air tight shifting zone defence and ran away from the Thorsby five outscoring them 46-10 over the remainder of the contest.

Ken Dusterhoft coming off the bench in the last quarter applied the coup de grace to the Hornets as he dropped in 10 decisive points. Doug Ibbotson again led the local high school club with 22 points. Keith Sodergren followed with 13 and Don Bouschard playing excellent basketball followed with 9. Charles Swap also contributed 9 key points.

The girls game was an exciting see saw affair with the Thorsby Hornets winning 36-35. It was a great win for either team for it was a case who was leading at the final bell as each team continually went ahead of the other.

Janine LaBranche came up with her finest scoring effort of the season with 15 points. She was followed by Terry Cable with 8 and Francis Meraw with 6. The Warriorettes now hold a 2 wins, 1 lost record in the Pembina League.

Last summer, more than 20,000 farmers saw Massey-Ferguson Command Performance tractor demonstrations of Pressure Control.

If you weren't among them, chances are you simply won't believe what we say about Pressure Control. We say "Pressure Control gives you substantially more traction by reducing slippage as much as 50% with pull-type implements."

Maybe you don't believe that, and we wouldn't blame you. It is hard to believe. It would mean that you could disc an acre more an hour.

Of course, we believe it, but we're not the only ones who do. Those 20,000 believe it because they saw it. The Nationwide Consumer Testing Institute believes it because they tested it.

But if you still don't believe what we say about Pressure Control, there's an easy way to get satisfaction. Make us show you the proof.

After all, suppose it's true...

HOME BUILDING SCHOOL

You may be contemplating a new or remodelled home in the next year or so.

A number of people in the district are planning homes and have approached us for help. Now is the time to plan and collect ideas. With this in mind, we have planned a home building school.

Our home design specialist, Donna Bagdan, and our engineer, Les Reid, will be conducting the School.

Donna will discuss floor plans, storage, interior design, exterior design, finishing materials, carpets, draperies and furniture. She has excellent slides and samples to illustrate these.

Les Reid will be showing a film that gives guidance in the most efficient frame construction techniques. In addition wiring, plumbing, water and sewage systems, contracts and blueprints will be dealt with.

The school will be held January 28th and 29th from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. in the Fort Saskatchewan Labour Temple.

Be sure that both you and your wife attend since this home of yours is a joint venture and both will be interested.

Coffee and registration at 9:30 a.m. Registration fee $3.00 a couple.

Agricultural Schools Turn Out Trained Technologists

Each year more and more agribusiness firms are looking to Alberta's three agricultural schools to provide them with the trained technologists needed to service today's highly specialized agricultural industry, says J. E. Hawker, director of the schools which are located at Olds, Vermilion and Fairview.

Originally, says Mr. Hawker, most of the graduates returned to the family farm but today an increasing number seek employment with government agencies or with agribusiness firms. For this reason it has been necessary to update and upgrade the courses so that the graduates would be better qualified to share in today's job opportunities. For example, students may take a general course or may major in animal or plant science, farm mechanics or farm management. A graduate with an animal science major would be better qualified for employment with a feed company or with a firm manufacturing and distributing medical supplies for livestock.

Similarly, a farm machinery distributor would likely prefer to hire a graduate who had completed a major in farm mechanics.

Two special courses which have been developed to meet today's off-farm employment needs are the agribusiness and soil technology courses. Approximately 50 percent of the agribusiness course is related to agriculture while the balance offers instruction in general business procedures and techniques. Graduates in soil technology will have been provided with an excellent background which should fit them for employment as land assessors, in the fertilizer business or in any other field where a good knowledge of soils and soil fertility is important.

The schools operate on a trimester basis and courses are completed in late December, at the end of March and at the end of June. The largest number of students complete their course at the end of March before work starts on the land.

The drawer that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lippert lost was reported seen and placed on a stone five miles south of town and one mile west. Even if the contents of the box cannot be returned, the return of the drawer would be appreciated as it makes the dresser incomplete. Anyone having information please phone Mr. Ben Lippert at 848-2279 or be kind enough to place it on the porch of the house next to the Seven Day Adventist Church.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.

In the rush to expedite agreement for bringing about the changes in the procedures of Parliament, several very important points were allowed to pass without sufficient attention.

It will be recalled that on December 20th, the Government and the Opposition compromised to end the debate on changes and procedure which debate might have dragged on into the holiday season. The bulk of observants of Parliament are agreed that the changes will lead to more efficiency in Parliament.

In the debate leading to the compromise, the Opposition charged that one section of the proposed new rules, clause 16A, would undermine Parliament and lead to the Prime Minister or the Government House Leader becoming a dictator.

Rule 16A provided for a procedure for allotting the time of Parliament. Without such a provision debate could drag on interminably as in the flag debate. Under the system which would have applied if Rule 16A were adopted, the House Leaders of all Parties would meet to decide on the allotment of time. In the event of disagreement, the Government House Leader would be able to decide on his own. Any provision which would not allow the Government House Leader to maintain a significant degree of control over the decisions of the meetings of the House Leaders would in effect negate the Party system of Government.

The first point which emerges from the foregoing is that the House Leader would be able to allot time on his own only in the event of disagreement among the House Leaders. Sufficient emphasis has not been placed on the fact that only in the event of disagreement among the House Leaders would the Government House Leader assume any additional power.

The second fact which was not conveyed was that the new rules, including 16A, were not drafted by the Government but by a Committee made up of all parties in Parliament. For this reason the charge that the Government was attempting some evil deed was unwarranted.

The charge of dictatorship was intended by the Opposition to attract attention of the public to the rules debate. It had the intended effect. It is not likely that those who levied the charge believe in it. For if a simple change in one rule could undo the evolutionary process of Parliament which had proceeded for 700 years, then our democracy is on a very thin footing and Parliament had better take a very serious look at itself.

Sympathy is for one who tried and failed; pity is for one who failed to try.

BRIDGE, OVERPASS OPEN IN PONOKA DISTRICT

A $176,000 bridge and a $113,000 railway overpass have been opened at Ponoka. The 220 foot bridge of pre-cast, prestressed concrete supported on steel pipe piles accommodates a 52 foot wide two-lane roadway with shoulders and a 5 foot side walk. It replaces the old 18 foot wide, 150 foot steel truss bridge erected at the Battle River crossing in 1938. The 150 foot railway overpass is similarly constructed and eliminates a dangerous level crossing at the western approach to the bridge. New construction also involved realignment of Highway 53 through the town of Ponoka.

NEW STRATEGIC AIRSTRIPS HELP NORTHERN ALBERTA DEVELOPMENT

STRATEGICALLY SPOTTED throughout the forest areas of Alberta are 119 airstrips built by the Forest Construction Branch of the Alberta Forest Service of the Department of Lands and Forests. These so-called "bush strips" which are actually being built to good engineering standards, are designed, located and constructed for the use of the Department. However, these strips are an important factor in the development of the northland for no one really knows just how many other landings and take-offs are really made, for they are open to use by anyone.

Forestry aircraft engaged in fire fighting use them, but they are also used by hunters and fishermen, by oil company planes, and by the occasional prospector. They are used by surveyors and construction crews and by the growing number of private pilots who fly for fun.

The work of building these strips is a continuing program. There are nine strips scheduled for completion in the current year's construction. Seven were built last year and nine the year before. They are expected to accommodate smaller aircraft but when the occasion arises, as in the case of a forest fire, some can be used by a DC3.

In addition to such strips as these, Forest Construction during the past three years has built three licensed airports with financial assistance from the Northern Development Council and the Federal Department of Transport. One of these is at Slave Lake and another at Footner Lake, 180 miles north of Peace River. These are attended at all times, are kept free of snow during the winter and have heated waiting rooms. They are equipped with landing lights for safe night, as well as daytime, use.

Perhaps the most ambitious construction project of the three airports was the Fort Chipewyan installation, a busy air centre served twice weekly by commercial airline service. The airport features full amenities with a fine, modern terminal building in which space has been leased by the airline and the Federal Department of Transport.

How Mod Can You Be

If your locks are flowing and mod's your bag and you want to be in the advertising business, your chances aren't hot or cool. Marketing, the advertising news weekly, has surveyed Canadian agencies about hiring men of tonorial and sartorial splendor, and it's an up-tight scene.

Marketing surveyed the top ten Canadian advertising agencies on acceptable personal appearance of staff dealing with clients and the far-out mod look hasn't yet replaced the grey flannel suit and button-down collar. The swinging image is frowned on in most agency quarters, too.

Marketing's survey disclosed: 60 percent oppose Tiny Tim style (shoulder length) haircuts; 50 percent frown on early-Beatles type of haircut (shaggy, half-way down neck); 20 percent rule out long mustaches (though some are willing to look at them before making a judgment); 40 percent don't go for staff wearing turtleneck shirts and Nehru jackets; 100 percent okay sideburns.

Fort Chimo is a community in northern Quebec. Take away the "fort," and you're giving an Eskimo greeting meaning "good health". It's a truly Canadian toast and according to Style, Canadian fashion newspaper, it's being promoted as such in swank bars in Montreal.

"Why use 'skol,' 'cheers,' or 'mud in your eye,'" asks Style, "when 'chimo' sounds much better?"

Alberta Maps Now Available

For free copies of this map and other tourist information write to: Alberta Government Travel Bureau, 1629 Centennial Building, Edmonton 15, Alberta.

Special features included on the map are provincial and national parks, approximately 300 camp sites, developed ski areas, scheduled air stops, and points of entry. Some 1,000 cities, towns, villages and localities are shown and listed in a convenient alphabetical index.

The reverse side carries inset maps of five major cities, an Alberta mileage chart, and a map showing Alberta's position on the continent with driving distances and time from major metropolitan areas. This year's back cover panel features a colourful topographical map of the province.
